WHEN TO GO

Season & rhythm

- How a Roses week actually runs.: A choreographed operation - berths, tenders and tables locked before wheels-down.
- Embark ready: APA open, crew briefed, transfer timed to Port of Roses.
- Local cadence: Morning toys, held lunch, short reposition around Roses, quiet overnight.
- Concierge lock: Restaurants and clubs confirmed weeks out - not left to chance.
- When to berth. When to anchor.: In Roses, quay nights buy access; hook nights buy privacy.
- Quay nights: Harbour energy around Port of Roses, walk-ashore dinners, event visibility.
- At anchor: Swim platforms, quiet mornings, tender-only shore calls.
- The usual play: One or two quay nights; the rest swinging in protected water.

FAQ

When is the best time for yacht charter in Roses?

Shoulder months in Mediterranean usually balance weather and berth availability for Roses near Port of Roses.

Which marina should we embark from in Roses?

Port of Roses is the primary embarkation for Roses, with anchorage fallbacks when LOA or events block the preferred quay.

How far ahead should we book berths in Roses?

For peak season around Roses, 4-12 weeks is typical for larger yachts; shoulder season is more flexible. We open the berth conversation with the yacht shortlist.

What does APA usually cover on a Roses charter?

Fuel, berthing, food and beverage, and most guest concierge extras. For Roses we set an honest APA band before contract - not a vague percentage.

Can you arrange airport transfers into Roses?

Yes - chauffeur and helicopter where available from GRO / BCN, timed to the embarkation slot at Port of Roses.

How does a Roses week use Cap de Creus?

Cap de Creus is a core Roses pocket - we sequence Port of Roses nights and day-anchors so the week feels unhurried. Roses sits inside Costa Brava as a focused stop, not a duplicate of the country hub.
